For fear the diagrams may not be quite clear to you, I want to call your attention to two or three symbols in common use. When you see those toothed lines placed opposite each other, that means an induction or repeating coil. When you see a single one of these by itself, however, that means a resistance coil, or perhaps a resistance without the coil. Those circles connected by a link mean a polarized bell or ringer. When you see a straight line ending in an arrow point, it means a switch contact. The rest is easily understood. I have been around this plant pretty well and have been ordering new parts where new parts were needed in...
