Separately, Harper Tambini and Rafe Silva are lethal. Together, they're explosive. ATF Special Agent Harper Tambini is kidnapped by a Colombian drug lord and forced to use her explosives knowledge to kill his competition before she can escape with the help of undercover CIA agent Rafe Silva. As they make their way through the rivers, mountains, and jungles, their desire for each other detonates. But Harper reminds Rafe of his murdered fiancée and the shadow world he wants to leave. Harper learned the hard way that men never stay, so now she doesn't keep them around long enough to see if the sparks can light a fire that will last forever. In their short time together, can they crystallize a relationship, or will it all blow up? Born in the U. S. A. to naturalized parents who escaped Colombia during the tumultuous years, Rafe Silva was raised with duty to country and family. He attended V. M. I. on a Navy ROTC scholarship where he met Beth who became his fiancée. Rafe and roommate Carlos Narvez, son of the Colombian Ambassador, endlessly discussed ways to free the South American country from its second-world status and feed the remote masses while legitimizing its agricultural exports. Rafe became a SEAL and Beth went into Naval Intelligence. When she's brutally killed as a spy, Rafe swears he'll never give his heart to a woman who works in the shadow world again. Still reeling from his loss, the CIA asks him to rejoin his college roommate in Colombia. Called Segundo as second-in-command to Carlos Narvez, Rafe has grown resentful that his once-idealistic friend has become a powerful drug cartel leader. When Carlos orders...
