

The Third Reich in Power, 1933-1939: How the Nazis Won Over the Hearts and Minds of a Nation

By Richard J. Evans

Penguin Books Ltd. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, The Third Reich in Power, 1933-1939: How the Nazis Won Over the Hearts and Minds of a Nation, Richard J. Evans, The second book in his acclaimed trilogy on the rise and fall of Nazi Germany, Richard J. Evans' "The Third Reich in Power: How the Nazis Won Over the Hearts and Minds of a Nation" explores how Hitler turned Germany from a vibrant democracy into a one-party state. Before Hitler seized power in 1933, Germany had been famous for its sophistication and complexity. So how was it possible for a group of ideological obsessives to re-mould it into a one-party state directed at war and race hate? How did the Nazis win over the hearts and minds of Germany's citizens, twist science, religion and culture, and transform the country's politics to achieve total dominance so quickly? From the Nuremberg Laws to the Olympic Games, Kristallnacht to the Hitler Youth, this gripping account shows how a whole population became enmeshed in a dictatorship that was consumed by hatred and driven by war. "Impressive .perceptive .humane". (Ian Kershaw). "Excellent .powerful .it makes an indelible impression". (Robert Service, "Sunday Times"). "Likely to be...
